CHINA'S "horizontal skyscraper" has officially opened its first attraction – a _____-bottom _____

_____.

And it's not for the faint-hearted!

In fact, it's barely for the brave, as this stomach-churning glass-bottom floor is a whopping 250m up in the air!

The _____ skyscraper, known as The Crystal, stretches across the tops of four of the eight _____ skyscrapers that make up the Raffles City Chongqing complex in Yuzhong District, China. The Exploration Deck (we'd name it the "see-through, lose your lunch sky tunnel", but that's just us) officially opened this week, following a lifting of COVID-19 lockdown restrictions.

To _____ to local social distancing measures, only 3,000 people are allowed to visit the giant Exploration Deck each day and tickets must be purchased in advance to regulate the crowds.

EIFFEL TOWER OPENS

The _____ in Paris will reopen on 25 June after being closed for over three months due to France's COVID-19 lockdown. However, the number of people allowed up the tower will be _____ and everyone over 11 years of age will have to wear a face mask.
